New, Good, Regular Merchandise Sacrificed

Anticipating an earlier completion of our new building, we stocked heavily. Present outlooks are that we will do our Christmas business without our new fixtures and cases. These heavy stocks are in our way and we must get rid of them to make room for the Christmas goods coming in on us every day. Starting Saturday and continuing throughout the following week we are featuring a phenomenal price-cutting. There are the things you need, right from regular stock and all at special marked down prices.

A PERPLEXED PHILOSOPHER ON THE INCREMENT TAX.

When the Bulletin commences to figure upon the question of taxation it loses no time in getting beyond its depth. "There is one way, and one way only," says the Bulletin, "to get at the increment, earned or unearned, and that is to raise the assessment of the tax rate."

While the Bulletin is setting out this remarkable axiom of economics it might attempt to fit in as an illustration in proof thereof the case of the Hudson Bay Company, which held until it became immensely valuable a tract of territory a mile by two miles, now become the middle section of the city of Edmonton, and then opened it up to use through sale to citizens of Edmonton who had already made it valuable, conferring upon purchasers the privilege of paying the taxes.

In this case the Hudson Bay Company seized an increment totalling more than the entire cost of the city's investment in utilities, and the citizens are allowed to pay for the utilities in fares and electric, water and phone rates. When the purchasers of Hudson Bay lots want sewer, sidewalk, pavement and schools, they may tax themselves for the same on a basis set by the valuation placed by the Hudson Bay when it sold the land and took the increment away to England.

The Bulletin's theory that the way to tax this increment is to raise the assessment or the tax rate does not exactly fit as the people who got the increment, having sold, no longer pay the taxes, while the people who bought pay taxes on not only the increment during their time of possession but during the Hudson Bay's time of possession as well.

EXPERT OPINION VERSUS ALDERMANIC OPINION.

The appearance of the president of the Canada West Natural Gas Company as a bidder for the contract to supply gas to the city at 15 cents a thousand feet, delivered at the limits, marks a new phase of the gas question which the council will do very well to consider seriously and to search for its real meaning.

When Clapp and Huntley made their $4,000 report, its main feature was a statement to the effect that in all probability an adequate field could be found to the east of the city. This report the council has undertaken to set aside, substituting therefore the opinions of aldermen who cannot pretend to be gas men. Now comes Coste with an offer which cannot be interpreted otherwise than as a proposal to exploit the very field which Clapp and Huntley recommended as worthy of exploitation; and Coste offers to spend a very large amount of money in drilling.

As a gas manager, Coste is probably the best-known in Canada. When he and Clapp and Huntley corroborate each other it may be taken for granted that they know what they are talking about, and the aldermen will have much assurance indeed if, in the face of this, they continue to declare that the experts do not know what they are talking about.

TIME TO ABOLISH COMPULSORY VACCINATION.

Surely the time has arrived when this compulsory infliction of cow pox virus should no longer be tolerated. Compulsory vaccination for the purpose of warding off an epidemic which does not threaten savors altogether too much of a fad borrowed from the dark ages to be accepted complacently, and sympathy will be all with the parents who protest against having their children inoculated. Even from the scientific viewpoint it has not yet been proven that the aggregate suffering from vaccination is not worse than an occasional visitation of the disease which it is purported to ward off.

In crowded and squalid centres, where conditions for the spread of smallpox are on every hand and where dread and ignorance help its spread, there might be some justification for vaccination; it is proven beyond doubt that vaccination really makes the vaccinated immune. But in a healthy city like Edmonton, where, on the whole, living conditions are sanitary, and where, in case of an improbable visitation, isolation would be reasonably easy, the excuse for vaccination cannot be said to exist. Surely the time has come for the abolition of compulsory vaccination.

THE MENIAL ATTITUDE OF PROPRIETORSHIP

Seeing that the telephone belongs to the city, subscribers feel quite free to express the opinion that advertising in the directory is obnoxious, and to expect that that opinion will not be ignored; as evidence, note the protest of the board of trade.

Were the telephone the property of the Bell, or some other similar monopoly, the presence of advertising in the directory would have been accepted as something about which the subscribers had not a word to say.

In Edmonton, with all utilities in the hands of the city, we have gone so far beyond the conditions existing in cities where these things are privately owned that it is not until some such instance as this incident of the directories arises that we are brought to realize the mental attitude of proprietorship that pervades the public mind where municipal ownership has become the habit of thought.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

The 7th of November is the anniversary of two important events in the history of Dominion politics. It was on this date 40 years ago that Alexander Mackenzie, who had been a member of the House of Commons since 1867, became the first liberal prime minister of the dominion, and formed a new ministry. He took the place of the late John A. Macdonald, who had been prime minister since 1867. Mackenzie's ministry included the Hon. A. A. Dorn, the Hon. L. B. Leighton, the Hon. J. H. Macdonald, the Hon. J. C. Gait, the Hon. J. S. Smith, the Hon. E. W. Blake, and the Hon. J. H. Macdonald. Mackenzie's ministry was defeated in the election of 1873, and he was succeeded by John A. Macdonald.

November 7 is the birthday of the Hon. W. L. Martin, a prominent Canadian politician. He was born on this date in 1847, and has served in the House of Commons since 1873. He was a member of the Liberal party, and served as minister of the interior under Mackenzie's ministry. He was also a member of the cabinet under Sir John A. Macdonald.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

Centenary of Jackson's War on Creek Indians.

General Andrew Jackson led the hostile Creek War on November 7, 1813. The war was fought between the United States and the Creek Indians. Jackson's army defeated the Creek Indians at the Battle of Horseshoe Bend. The war resulted in the removal of the Creek Indians from their homeland in Alabama to Indian Territory.

November 7 is also the birthday of the Hon. J. S. Smith, a prominent Canadian politician. He was born on this date in 1847, and has served in the House of Commons since 1873. He was a member of the Liberal party, and served as minister of the interior under Mackenzie's ministry.

HAD A STROKE OF PARALYSIS

And Found a Cure in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is always better to prevent serious diseases of the nerves. There are many varieties, such as sleeplessness, irritability, headaches and nervous indigestion. Paralysis, palsy and locomotor ataxia only come when the nervous system is greatly exhausted. Even though your ailment may not yet be very serious, there is a great safety in knowing that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will cure paralysis in its earlier stages.

Mrs. R. Bright, 215 Booth Avenue, Toronto, writes: "Two years ago my husband had a stroke which left him in a weak, nervous condition. He started taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and he was cured in a few days. He is now as strong as ever."

HERE'S GOLD IN THE MOUNTAINS

Party of Prospectors Strike Town Landed Down With a Heavy Secret.

LOTS OF YELLOW METAL FOR ALL AND SUNDRY.

Will Put Their Backers Wise First and Then—Maybe—Outsiders May Get Look In.

There's good evidence to fear that in no very long time there will be a gold fever in Edmonton town. The Capital has received a special visit from the Perdomo hotel yesterday, soon from the region of the bar his cars were assailed by a host of curiosity seekers.

In a few moments it became quite evident he was witnessing one of the unending spectacles of the approaching winter. The centre of a curious crowd, stood seven of the best known old-timers in the city.

Under the leadership of M. St. Louis, assisted by some person or persons known only to themselves, they left Edmonton last March for Fort George, from which that outpost of civilization they plunged straight into the vast tract of little known country traversed by the Athabasca, Stuart, and Peace rivers.

There is no doubt that the party is only in Edmonton to prepare for the winter. The party is only in Edmonton to prepare for the winter. The party is only in Edmonton to prepare for the winter.

THE GAY WORLD.

Mrs. George L. Graham, 19 Arlington apartments, will receive on Tuesday, November 11, for the first time this season. Mrs. Graham will not receive again until the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Code entertained to a large number of their friends at an informal euchre party and musical evening at their charming new home No. 213 Twenty-sixth street on Wednesday evening last. This is Mrs. Code's first reception to her many friends since her wedding last January, and was much enjoyed by the large number present. Mrs. Code was ably assisted in receiving by her two sisters, the Misses Feller and Miss Gilligan.

Mrs. F. M. Morgan entertained at lunch today in honor of her guest Miss Craig of Winnipeg.

Mrs. H. M. Evans "Sylvanhurst" entertained a large luncheon party today. Miss Toller of Collingwood, was the guest of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Woods, of "Stridingwood" entertained a supper party after the performance of "Twelfth Night" last night, in honor of Miss Margaret Anglin, who with her husband, Mr. Hall, and Mr. Mellish, who portrayed Malvolio so perfectly, were most charming guests. The supper table was decorated profusely with ferns and carnations and the menu was very much enjoyed. The guests were Mrs. Anglin, Mrs. C. W. Cross, Mrs. Housley, Miss Toller, Miss Forsyth, Miss Marjorie Brown, Mr. Hall, Mr. Mellish, Mr. Housley, Mr. Ernest Ferris, Mr. John Cowan and Mr. Harry Baldwin.

Mrs. Anglin wore a lovely gown of green charmeuse, the bodice of which was with elegant embroidery. Mrs. Cross's costume was black crepe de chine with bodice of crepe and lace. Mrs. Housley had on a gown of green satin with bodice of chiffon and shadow lace. Miss Toller wore a sweet frock of net with white satin touches. Miss Forsyth's costume of black chiffon, tunic of green chiffon with cream Spanish lace and jet fringe. Miss Marjorie Brown a girlish frock of white satin and lace with Dresden girls. Mrs. Woods wore a handsome gown of white satin and chiffon.

Mrs. James Smith was the hostess of a delightful bridge on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Toller who is a guest of Mrs. Sobbe. The guests were Miss Toller, Mr. and Mrs. Sobbe, Miss and Mrs. James Taylor, Miss Haycock, Miss Barnes, Miss Ogden, Miss Study Watson, Winnipeg, Miss Eleanor Taylor, Miss Sowden, Miss Tilly, Miss Gertrude Edmonson, Mr. Field, Mr. Edmonson, Mr. Blissett, Dr. Mills, M. G. L. Ferris, Mr. Alan Harbrie, Mr. Housley, Mr. Frank Phelanigan. Miss Ogden won the ladies' first prize, a silver frame, and Miss Toller the second, a cut glass bottle. Mr. Alan Harbrie gentleman's first prize, a Russia leather card case. Mr. Edmonson second prize, a drinking cup in leather case.

Mrs. James Stewart and Miss Freese.

BALL.

The Humane Society's ball, held in the separate school hall last night, was a great success. The room was richly decorated with flags and Chinese lanterns. The music was splendid, the floor perfection, and the supper good. The dancers were evidently in dancing humor for encores were plentiful. There were not as many people present as there should have been, for the cause is one that demands the attention of every citizen, but as we grow wiser perhaps the Humane Society dance will be a function in the future which will be the best entertainment of the season. Coming last night as it did, in the midst of so many counter attractions, Margaret Anglin's play, and the first assembly dance to-night, showed that there were a goodly number of hearts who wish the Humane Society the success it deserves.

The senior boys of the Sunday school of the Grange Presbyterian church were entertained at the manse last night. A pleasant evening was spent with games and singing. A club was formed for the winter season. After the business of the club had been discussed, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Thornton Graham, 475 Second avenue northwest, will receive on Tuesday afternoon, November 11, from 4 to 6, and afterwards on the second Wednesday of each month.

Mrs. Montgomery, Twenty-seventh street, was the hostess of an informal tea yesterday, at which Miss Anglin was to have been the guest of honor, but the distinguished actress, arriving in town so late, was unable to accept Mrs. Montgomery's invitation. Madame Leandri was also a guest of honor. Mrs. Charles Chowne presided at the tea table, which was fragrant with bloom. Miss Gertrude assisted. Among the guests were Mrs. Justice Wilson, Mrs. Togh, Mrs. Kenneth, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Hobbs, Miss Maud McKenney, Miss Forsyth, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Wright, south side; Mrs. Lowe, and others.

ANCIENT PAGEANT.

London, Nov. 7.—The reproduction on an abridged scale of the lord mayor's show of the year 1612 will be a special feature this year of London's annual lord mayor's day pageant, which will be held on Monday next, as November 9 falls this year on Sunday.

WIDE, draped

girdle made such a feature of the autumn that they contribute largely to the success of any costume. In this case, the girle is of chambrase satin and the blouse and skirt are of checked material combining silk and wool and the collar is white broadcloth. The gown is an exceedingly smart one and eminently practical at the same time. For the early season, it can be worn upon the street with the addition of only a neck ruff but it is appropriate within doors at all seasons. The one-sided Russian effect is fashionable and the two-piece skirt has a plaited, each side seam that extends a little above the buttons and allows freedom for walking. A gown of this kind can be made from many different fabrics. Silk and wool rating is an important material of the autumn and would be beautiful treated in this way. We continue to wear silk for all purposes and this gown of silk or silk and wool poplin would be handsome. There are also a great many novelties, both plain and figured. Light weight or chiffon broadcloth worn in checks is pretty. A green and tan check treated just in this way would be beautiful.

For the medium size, the blouse will require 4 1/2 yards of material 27, 3 1/2 yards 36 or 40 inches wide, with 1/2 yard 27 inches wide for the collar; the skirt 3 1/2 yards 27, 2 1/2 yards 36 or 44 inches wide. The width of the skirt at the lower edge is 1 yard and 28 inches.

The May Manton pattern of the blouse 7766 is cut in sizes from 34 to 40 inches bust measure; of the skirt 7877 from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. They will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents for each.

LINCOLN DELEGATE DIES.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Dr. David Arter, believed to be the last surviving delegate to the convention which named Abraham Lincoln the first republican candidate for president in 1860, is dead at his home here at the age of 94.

Trafalgar Day draws near, when the Nelson monument will be a wonderful sight with the beautiful wreaths and other floral offerings, sent from all parts of the world. The old grey-clad man hardly knows itself when the huge mounds of laurel and of flowers are banded around it, and a crowd moved on at intervals by the police, passes slowly by to look at the decorations and read the inscriptions on the cards. The neighborhood of Trafalgar Square is very Canadian; in fact, paragraphs in this year of London's annual lord mayor's day pageant, which will be held on Monday next, as November 9 falls this year on Sunday.

ON WAY TO WEST

Will Only Visit Winnipeg to Speak at Mass Meeting, Then Returns to Chicago.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—General Bramwell Booth, of the Salvation Army, left Toronto last night on the 10:30 train for the west. His departure from the city, while not marked by an yecoremony, was the occasion of the presence at the Toronto Union Station of a number of the leading officers of the headquarters staff of the army, and he was given out.

The general was accompanied by Colonel Kitching, his private secretary, on a heavy cheer as the train pulled and Commissioners Lamb and Lawley. He is to address mass meetings in Winnipeg on Sunday, and on the following three days will hold conferences with the western officers. From Winnipeg he will go to Chicago, and after a week's stay in that city, he will leave for New York.

JUDGE ON FRAUD CHARGE IN COAST CITY HIGH COURT

Alleged He Misrepresented His Residence to Secure Six Dollars a Day.

SECURED OVER $4000 BY MISSTATING THE FACTS

Defendant Claims that Charge is the Work of Enemies

Declares He is Not Guilty.

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—An unusual trial in which the crown is the complainant and Mr. Justice Clement of the supreme court is the defendant, opened before Mr. Justice Cassels in the exchequer court this morning. The charge made against the judge is that between August, 1907, and March, 1910, he misrepresented to the crown his place of residence, and thereby secured about $4,000 under the rule which allows a judge a sum of 16 per cent expenses during the days he is absent on duty from his place of residence.

The defence is that during the whole of the time complained of the defendant had his place of residence at Grand Forks, in the Kootenay district and was properly entitled to charge expenses for the time he was on duty in Vancouver and elsewhere. In letters to the deputy magistrate in explanation of expenses claimed, the defendant said that though his wife and family were with him in Vancouver most of the time, that their family residence was at Grand Forks, and their stay there was a temporary stay in lodgings. He stated that pending the court of appeals, in November, 1909 he had not decided where to make his home. Had he been appointed to the appeal court for which his name had been mentioned, he would have gone to Victoria to reside. In March, 1910, he sold his residence at Grand Forks, which had been looked after by a caretaker while the family was away, and made his home in Vancouver.

In the later letters discussing the case with the minister of justice, the defendant stated that during his occupancy of the bench in British Columbia he had been pursued by enemies and made the subject of attacks in the legislature.

In a letter dated March 25, 1912, he stated: "If my explanations are not deemed sufficient there is a proper tribunal before which I can appear to answer these charges. I am not guilty of this charge and will defend my good name as a judge and as a man to the last gasp."

F. S. MacLellan, K.C., of Montreal, is appearing for the crown, and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K.C., E. P. Davis, K.C., E. V. Bowdell, K.C., and J. McFarlane for the defence.

Chief Justice Hunter has been subpoenaed as a witness. Justice Cassels said in court this afternoon that it appeared that the question was only one of technical interpretation of the statute that there was no fraud that it was merely a matter whether or not the judge made a proper claim for expenses. If improper the court might order that refund should be made.

SENATOR DAVIS SEES IMPROVEMENT IN EDMONTON

Surprised Beyond Words at Progress Which He Saw Around Town.

EDMONTON'S INCREASE EASILY SURPASSES PEG

Tells of Improvements in Prince Albert Redistribution Bill at Session of Parliament

Senator Tom Davis, of Prince Albert, was a visitor to Edmonton yesterday, having arrived this night before. In a talk to the Chamber of Commerce, he remarked with a laugh that what he had intended to be merely a casual visit, very soon developed into a protracted voyage of discovery. In fact, he had spent most of the day in an automobile, examining the different sections of Edmonton.

"In all seriousness," said the senator to the newspaper men, "I must say the new aspect of this city surprised me beyond words. The evidence of growth and progress which I saw everywhere on my trip this afternoon, are nothing short of extraordinary. It is over 12 years since I really had a good look at Edmonton, although I have been through it seven times. I have watched Winnipeg grow, and I know the time it took for that city to reach the 70,000 mark. We can easily see, Edmonton, in its great increase, easily surpasses the big city of the middle west, even in the past few days of its fast growth. Your city has certainly surprised me."

The senator stated that the last time he was in Edmonton on serious business was 12 or 13 years ago, when he and a colleague interviewed the then board of trade in the matter of the Trans-Canada railway, now known the would occur as the Grand Trunk Pacific. He declared, however, that his present two days' visit was of a purely private nature.

"To restate my own home town of 'Prince Albert,'" said Senator Davis, "most of the time and money is being used in developing the big water power resources of the place. As a result of this I am almost sure that at the next municipal elections the city will vote in favor of granting a franchise to a private corporation for the purpose of building a street railway. We are a little too large to be without one, and rather than wait until we have the money and time to build a municipally owned system, I am almost certain the people of Prince Albert will grant the franchise to a private company."

The senator does not expect to return to Ottawa until well on in January, by which time he is of the opinion that a new distribution bill will have been drawn up and passed.

MINE SUPERINTENDENT MURDERED AND ROBBED

Constitutionalist Leaders Perform Horrible Atrocity at Eagle Pass on American Mining Man

Eagle Pass, Texas, Nov. 7.—R. B. Winger, assistant superintendent of the Peoples Mining company, at Malami, state of Durango, Mexico, was robbed and then killed at the direction of constitutionalist leaders, and after the murder his fingers were cut off so the rebel commander might obtain valuable rings the American was wearing. This information was brought to Eagle Pass last night by other refugees who reached the border after an overland journey of 18 days.

The refugees who arrived tonight were escorted to the boundary by a relief expedition sent to Mahadi two months ago. They were the last of the American residents to quit the mining district.

EAT NEW BREAD, CABBAGE, SAUSAGE, AND DIGEST IT. "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN"

No indigestion, no sour, gassy stomach or dyspepsia. Try It!

Do some food you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly, ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, let this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered, you get happy relief in five minutes, but what please you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. Diapepsin is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition, so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Put an end to stomach trouble by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

SPECIAL TAXES RAISED OVER AT COUNCIL MEETING

The special taxes came in for another raising over the costs at the hands of the council last night. The commissioners submitted a report dealing with the way the estimates were ascertained and the fact that the actual figures could not be obtained from the engineering department by the inspector of estimates, who on the 15th inst. when the date for a ten per cent. discount expires.

The mayor explained that it would be advisable to notify those who have been over-assessed that they will be reimbursed for the amount of the excess when such amounts have been determined.

Alderman Smith said that he was not satisfied with this arrangement and insisted that in all fairness to the taxpayers at least when the improvements have not been done, the special taxes should not be levied this year.
The mayor proceeded to explain that he had been trying all along to change the system but had been opposed by the council and the commissioners.
This remark aroused Alderman East who jumped to his feet and declared that this system is one of the mayor's own making.

It is not, retorted the mayor, and if you had a little more sense you would be more useful at this council board.
"Go and get yourself a looking-glass," said Alderman Livingston to Alderman East, at whom the remark smiled and the motion to adopt the commissioners report was put and declared carried.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS CURED A BAD ATTACK OF ECZEMA.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Scabies, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in a bad condition, and it is only by the blood being made pure from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can very easily do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich, and not only are the unsightly diseases removed, and a bright clear complexion produced, but the entire system is renewed and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. G. A. Day, Somerville, N.B., writes: "Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in less than a week the sores began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

EDMONTON COSMETE MAKES COUNCIL GAS PROPOSITION

Thirty-five Cents for Domestic and Twenty for Manufacturing Purposes.

WOULD DRILL AT SOME POINT NEAR EDMONTON

If Consumption Should Exceed 600,000 Feet Per Month
Price Would be Reduced.

The city council listened to a very interesting proposition put forth last night by Eugene Coste, who represents the company now supplying the city of Calgary with natural gas. Mr. Coste submitted to the council in writing the terms on which he is prepared to enter into an agreement with the city.
After having listened to the proposal read by the city clerk, Mr. Coste was introduced, and elaborated at considerable length on the question and what it would mean to the city. He made it quite clear that his company is not at all greedy, but is willing to concede like privileges to any other company. He proceeded to detail the conditions of the flow of the gas field and how the supply is piped out to Calgary. Lethbridge, Macleod and other places. He stated that the line he had in reserve in the field that field millions of cubic feet of gas are consumed from 50 to 60 pounds pressure. The pipe line from Bow land to Calgary is 150 miles in length.
The line from the field to the city is 250 miles, and at the city 75 pounds. In addition to this pressure, the line is under a high pressure. It is still a reserve pressure, he stated, of over 600 pounds available for any use. The gas is piped to the city in a longer distance.

When asked by the council if it was advisable to pipe the gas from the Bow land or Calgary to Edmonton, Mr.
Coste stated that the extremely long pipe line would likely make the cost of gas in Edmonton higher than it should be, but his people are ready to spend millions of dollars in drilling and laying pipe to the city and delivering it to the city other than the city limits.
He stated that through a distribution system should the city decide to give the company the right to use the gas in laying their distribution system.

The price quoted by Mr. Coste in his offer for domestic use is 35 cents and 20 cents for manufacturing purposes. This is the regular price now being paid by Calgary and other cities and towns in the southern section of the western provinces, said Mr. Coste.
Calgary during the winter months the price is reduced to 30 cents for domestic and 15 cents for manufacturing purposes. If the consumption of any concern runs over 600,000 cubic feet per month, the company also allows a further discount. The agreement he stated, might also be worked out in Edmonton should an agreement be entered into for the supply of natural gas.

Mr. Coste was then asked where his company was getting the gas from which he expects to supply the city of Edmonton.
In reply to the query from Alderman Livingstone, he stated that the gas was somewhere in Alberta. The exact location he considered should not concern the city, as the company's business with his people and what they have done for Calgary and other southern cities and towns, he said, was the sincerity of his proposals. He told about the saving that had been effected by the city of Calgary since using natural gas in preference to coal. He also referred to the city of Pittsburgh where they get all kinds of the finest grade of hard coal at prices ranging from 50 cents to $2.00 per ton, yet in all cases of coal, the cost of the feet of gas is consumed daily at a cost of from 30 to 35 cents per thousand cubic feet. He stated that the gas is being paid by western cities. Natural gas, he said, is the cheapest fuel in the west, and really cheaper than coal.

As an illustration he took his own house which contains 15 rooms, and which is heated with natural gas, so that hot water may be had at any hour of the day or night for less than 10 cents. He stated that the furnace is self-regulating and need not be looked after often than once a month. Due to the economy and consumption of gas is only from four to five thousand cubic feet, at a cost of from $1.20 to $1.50.

But you have not the gas to offer the city now, suggested Alderman Livingstone, and we have a field of gas at Pelican. Do you know the Pelican field? asked Mr. Livingston.
"A wonderful field, and with all the gas fields," replied Mr. Coste, "I have been in the business for years and know all about it. There is a fraternity among the gas dealers just the same as in any other line, and we sell each other. We do not want an exclusive franchise, but we want to get a fair chance with all other competitors. If the city or any other company can get gas to the city first let them at it."

Since the company owns the distribution system in Calgary, Alderman Livingstone wanted to know if Edmonton installed and operated the distribution system, would the price be reduced to any great extent. Mr. Coste replied that the company would prefer to charge the consumer the standard price, and then either allow the city a rental for the use of the distribution system or pay a fixed sum to cover interest and sinking fund, together with any other just charges. The cost to distribute the gas in Calgary about 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, said Mr. Coste. It is difficult to estimate the cost in Edmonton, as the cost of the distribution system in use and the demand for natural gas, all of which would come in to estimate the cost.

The proposal submitted by Mr.
Coste in writing to the council was based on the table to be taken with the other offers, and reads as follows:
The City Council:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of ourselves and associates, we beg to make the following offer for the sale and distribution of natural gas to the city of Edmonton, namely:

1. Our company to complete the construction of a pipe line connecting the wells of the company to the city of Edmonton, not less than 16 inches in diameter, on or before October 1, 1914.

2. The company would agree to drill before the above mentioned date not less than 10 wells to a depth of at least 2,000 feet, provided natural gas in large commercial quantities was not struck before that depth.

3. Our company would agree with the city to either:
(a) Install its own distribution system throughout the city and not less than 20 miles of it of different size pipe varying between 16 inch and 41-1/2 inch in diameter for the first year, namely, on or before the above mentioned date of October 1, 1914, and to increase this distribution system from year to year afterwards as business conditions warranted, and under the regular arbitration clause in similar contracts.

(b) Should the city prefer and decide to own its own distribution system within the city limits, our company would agree in that case to deliver the gas to the high pressure station of the city, at any point decided near the city limits. But in this instance the city would be required to construct the pipe line for the gas, and our large investment in the construction of the long pipe line and in the drilling for the supply of the gas in the field, and for maintaining this supply, we would, of course, expect that the city would agree to construct a system of at least 50 miles in extent for the first year, namely, before the above mentioned date, the first of October, 1914, and thereafter to increase this system from year to year as business warrants, and to consume and pay for a certain minimum amount of gas per day, which is to be determined and inserted in the final agreement between us.

4. All the gas that would be sold by our company direct to consumers, or if sold by the city to consumers, is to be sold by meter measurements in every case, and:

(a) If distributed and sold by the price is not to exceed 35 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for all domestic com-sumption, and 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for all gas sold for power and manufacturing purposes, provided that an additional price of three cents per 1,000 cubic feet may be charged and collected on all bills unpaid within 10 days of rendering same.

(b) Should the city decide to construct its own distribution plant and to take gas from us at the city limits, then in that case the price to us to be 15 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for all gas sold, and measured through a pilot tube measuring station.

The city to either:
(a) Grant a franchise to construct, maintain and operate our own distribution system throughout the city, as the same may be extended from time to time for a period of 20 years, with a clause providing for the purchase of the plant and system throughout the city at the end of that period, or the continuance of our franchise for successive periods of three years until such purchase is effected.

(b) Or should the city decide to install their own distribution system, an agreement to be made between us by which the city would be permitted to use the above mentioned price of 15 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for a period of 20 years, and as much longer as we can supply the city with at least 50 per cent. of its requirements.

Payments to us to be made monthly on the 25th of each month in regard to the gas sold during the preceding month, at the volume of the gas sold, computed at the ordinary selling price of the gas, namely, four cents per 1,000 cubic feet for domestic com-sumption and eight ounces for all other uses for power and manufacturing purposes.

In this case the city to agree to consume and pay for not less than 3,000, 000 cubic feet per day during the first year after the gas is first delivered, and not less than 15,000,000 cubic feet per day for the second year, and not less than 15,000,000 cubic feet per day for each year afterwards as long as our company is able to deliver these quantities of gas.

Should the city desire to grant similar rights and privileges or franchises to any other company or person now agreeing or desire to make an agreement with them to purchase gas at the city limits, we have no objection to the granting to them of the same rights, privileges, franchises, or agreement, to purchase gas as would be granted to us, and we are willing that a clause embodying these conditions be inserted in our agreement or franchise with the city.

Respectfully submitted,

Yours very truly,

EUGENE COSTE,

THOMAS H. FRYE.

BAD MUSKIE SINK HOLE

TIES UP TRAFFIC ON C.P.R.

Boggy Spot Had Pleasant Little Trick

of Swallowing Up Engines and Cars.

Fort William, Nov. 7.—Giving way for the third time within a month the sink hole at Rossford held up all traffic on the C.P.R. for eight hours tonight. All available work trains and cars were rushed to the spot to put the track in shape.

Several weeks ago the muskie gave away beneath a work train letting the engine and eight cars go down. Soon after it gave way beneath another work train and almost buried the engine.

Reports received here stated that no body was injured.

valuing rate of wages.

Do you Feel like this?

In going straight to the weak spot in treating disease? If so, you will never use anything
but Chamberlain's Cough, Colds, Bronchitis, and Throat and Lung Treatments. Listen why!

Peps are tiny tablets, which contain rich medicinal ingredients, so prepared that they turn into vapor in the mouth, and are breathed down to the throat, the breathing tubes and lungs direct.

Cough mixtures go—get to the lungs and chest at all, but to the stomach.
There is no direct connection between stomach and lungs.

When you have a bad cold, your digestion is weakened. You lose appetite, and if a man, your small intestine does not "take food." In other words, your digestive system is lacking food. All cough mixtures make this condition worse.

Don't run your remedy to heat your lungs. Take a remedy that goes right to the spot—Peps.

Surprising how they end, coughs, croup, bronchitis, sore throat, "cleg-ma" of the throat, and all lung troubles. Contain no poison, and are best for children.

Dr. Gordon Stables says—"If you want to ease and cure a cough, if you desire to keep the phlegm down, and clear the throat and the breathing tubes, use Peps. The fine fumes and balsamic gases go directly to the throat, germicidal, and germicidal in the mouth, on the palate, in the throat, and in the breathing tubes, are at once destroyed by their action."

When you try this famous remedy, if you don't, cut out this article, write across the name address of the city, and mail it with 10c stamp to pay return postage. Peps will be sent to you.
A free trial packet will then

CHAMBERLAIN-CAMPBELL INTERESTS MAKE PROPOSITION TO CITY COUNCIL.

WOULD SELL OUTRIGHT FOR SUM OF $1,500,000

Under Sale City Would Have Right to Sink as Many Wells as it Chose.

The Chamberlain-Campbell interests, now boring for gas two miles east of the city limits on the extension of Wythe avenue, submitted to the city council last night several offers for the supply of gas. These offers were read by the clerk and on motion of the council laid on the table to be taken up at a special meeting to be called later for the consideration of all gas propositions made to the council.

They also offer to sell outright to the city the gas rights and the privilege of sinking as many wells as the city may require to supply its demand, the sum of $1,500,000, payments to be spread over a term of five years, the rights to be reserved by the owners.

The company is at present drilling one well which is now sunk to a depth of over 100 feet. Gas has been encountered at several points on the way down but not in sufficient quantity to warrant piping it off.

The various propositions made to the city and laid on the table to be considered later with all other propositions, reads as follows:

Edmonton City Council:

Gentlemen—If the city will agree to wait until we have finished the hole we are now engaged upon, we shall be willing to have them thoroughly examine the well and if they are satisfied that the field is capable of supplying the city's needs we will be willing to sell them the gas rights and the privilege of producing a total output of 16,000,000 cubic feet per day of 24 hours.

any wells to further supply to be sunk by the city.

In the event of the city accepting either of the following offers, the city shall have no claim on the oil rights of the section or on any oil produced thereon, and that such acceptance shall not prevent us going down after oil provided that we cease off the gas as soon as possible after striking it.

City of Edmonton:

Gentlemen—In accordance with your resolution appointing me a delegate, I attended on October 22, the provincial convention held in Calgary for the purpose of furthering the erection of a provincial sanitarium for the care and treatment of tuberculosis. At this session a provincial anti-tuberculosis association was formed to deal with the question of tuberculosis in the province generally, and officers elected, the president being Mr. J. A. McEwen, of Edmonton.

In addition to this association, a board of right was appointed to deal specifically with the sanitarium to be erected on the free grant of land of 25 acres between Edmonton and Alt-ford, 20 miles west of Calgary on the C.P.R. This grant of land is obtained from the dominion government, and the provincial government has undertaken to give 25 per cent. of the cost of all buildings receiving gas, as well as to allow 25 cents per day per patient treated there.

The representatives on the board of right are Mr. Arthur Murphy, and your medical officer of health, and those with the control of the land, the erection of this sanitarium at an early date as possible in the year 1914.

A resolution which is of some importance was passed by this convention, which is as follows:

"Whereas the city of Edmonton is a charitable institution, and largely supported by the municipalities in which they are established, and whereas many municipalities not having provided hospital accommodation avail themselves of the opportunity of sending destitute patients to the said hospitals.

"Resolved, that the board of government of all hospitals receiving gas from any municipality the actual cost of care for each indigent case, as bona fide residents of said municipalities, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the minister of agriculture."

This convention, the city of Edmonton was also represented by Dr. G. Revell, provincial bacteriologist, and Dr. W. C. Laidlaw, provincial medical officer of health.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Yours truly,

ANGLIN AND COMPANY SCORE HIT AT EMPIRE

Crowded House Witnesses Splendid Production of "Twelfth Night"—Strong and Large Cast of Exceptionally Clever Principals in Company.

Edmonton as a town of true theatre-lovers was most fully exemplified last night by the large audience that packed the Empire to the doors to witness Margaret Anglin and company in "Twelfth Night," the opening bill of their Shakespearean offerings here. Miss Anglin has been out of the theatre for some time, but with the witnessing of "Twelfth Night" last evening comes once more the realization of this playwright's wonderful genius.

The lines of Shakespeare, read even in the silence of one's room have a strange fascination for most of us and "Twelfth Night" as interpreted by Miss Anglin and her clever supporting company is one of the greatest theatrical triumphs yet seen by the management of the Empire in some time.

It is seldom that a star of Miss Anglin's magnitude makes an opening entrance without getting a hand, but last night not until the third scene did the audience give their applause, and after that time it was loud and insistent. There is a vague suspicion hovering in the Drama Bug's head that the audience was not exactly sure which was the talented star which is here out rightly by the hand given Miss Anglin—she is the Duchess in scene 2 of act 1.

Miss Anglin, in the role of the love mad maiden who does the attire of a boy to become the servant of the object of her affection, Orsino, Duke of Illyria, proved her great powers as an actress, for throughout the evening every moment she was upon the stage, the Prince was soundless, and people leaned far over in their chairs, away-ed by the magnetism of her voice and the power of her acting.

Take practically all of Shakespeare's plays, "Twelfth Night" requires a large number of principals of the highest ability, and in this respect the support given Miss Anglin is probably the best in the number of beautiful principals of any of the companies that have played here during the past season.

And regarding them it is rather difficult to make comparison. Sidney Greenstreet, as Sir Toby, renders the part of a paunchy drunkard, and because humor is always paramount with an audience, was probably the best received last night. Fuller Mellich, as Malvolio, the egotistical steward and the butt of Maria, and other others, has a part full of possibilities, which he takes advantage of to the fullest. Wallace Wadsworth, as Sir Ague, the foolish, pompous youth, renders the part with such realism as to excite both contempt and amusement in his audience. Ian McLaren, as Orsino, Max Montrose, in the role of clown, Lillian Thurgate as the mild Maria, and Miss Holt-Thurman, as the Duchess, are all worthily of more comment and space than they are devoted here.

As before stated, it is difficult to make comparisons upon any of the governing principles of this company, but it is difficult to adequately describe and credit Miss Anglin for her interpretation of the leading role. That it is pleasing to note that Edmonton theatre-goers were not slow to realize the true worth of the production offered them last night, and the company with their offering of "As You Like It" tomorrow night, bellowingly understate, and "The Taming of the Shrew" Saturday, are assured of large and appreciative audiences.

PROGRAM FULL OF ACTION AT ROYAL

"Gangster" Proves to Be a Decided Hit at Namayo Picture House.

"The Gangster," a two-reel Latin special film, which is the headline on the royal bill for today and tomorrow, is a strong story, well acted and produced. Phil Tannen (a character) is rescued by pleading, from the strong arm appeal of Santa Baire, a music worker, who thinks that she can work a reformation. The story continues an influence over the girl and finally forces her to marry him under threat of killing her mother sweetheart.

Later Tannen and his gang are arrested and serve a term in jail. In the meantime Phil has a child, and, dying, urges the baby into the care of Tom Neil, who was her former sweetheart.

Later, the character is released, sent vengeance on Tom, whom they believe to be the father of the child. They capture him and are about to shoot him to pieces. A bomb, which Tannen set upon the scene, and, rescuing Neil, is himself killed, leaving the people for Neil to care for the child of the woman who should have been his wife.

"Fate Fashions a Letter" is the title of a stirring story, in which a famous detective is almost swayed by a motor-love criminal he has started out to track to a letter that accidentally comes from his wife.

One of the popular "Alkali Ike" comedies, entitled "Alkali Ike and the Wild Man," complete the program, which is one of the most amusing bills ever shown at the popular Namayo avenue picture house.

EVEN ACTRESSES' MOTHERS
HEAR THINGS OF DAUGHTERS

Funny Incident "That is Told at the Expense of Winnifred Whitehouse."

And this is the way many of the unimpaired stories concerning daybreak and people in the twilight get their start. A young man who professed to know everything and everything was seated in a vaudeville theatre recently, enlightening his girl companion as to the character, reputation, past performance, etc., of everybody on the bill. Finally the girl was frightened, hearing the name of Winnifred Whitehouse, and with Fred Lloyd, appears on the programme for the first bill of next week.

Now, it happened that Miss Whitehouse's mother was seated directly behind the well-informed youth and overheard his remarks.

"Why, she's the daughter of a million-dollar man, just like her father," said the young man, "and she's a famous non-refillable whisky bottle you hear me about that."

"You don't say so?" exclaimed the young woman, "thoroughly over-awed," "then she must have lots of money."

"Sure she has," asserted her companion, "she don't have to work, she just sits and lets the money love her."

And in this manner do the mothers of actresses sometimes hear things concerning their daughters.

TROUPE OF LIONS AT THE PANTAGES

Number of Excellent Features Are on Next Week's Bill.

A troupe of lions, a pleasing sketch, a trio of songsters, and a cute little girl who does male impersonation, to say nothing of a sensational balancing act, with Africa Palace patrons plenty of amusement next week. The lion act is considered to be undoubtedly the greatest one to be seen at the Pantages. The lions are really magnificent beasts, whose wild instincts have never been subdued and the trainer, Taylor, is in constant danger during the performance. He now carries with him two assistants, who stand at all times ready with loaded guns and hot traps to repel the animals should an accident occur.

The Tony Corsetti Trio are three young entertainers who were such a success in the vaudeville and order of New York that Louis Pantages, the booking agent of the Pantages, in that city, engaged them for a trip over the circuit. They have a unique offering filled with bright and clever comedy, while their graceful dancing has been a factor in their remarkable success.

Richard Carter and Co., who play a sensational "Vacation Days" and "Hello, Hello," who is a male impersonator, will give a touch of novelty to the program, while the acrobatic art will consist of the American, two European equilibrists, who do several startling tricks in mid-air.

THRILLER AT THE BUOU.

The picture "Vacation Days" and "Hello, Hello," who is a male impersonator, will give a touch of novelty to the program, while the acrobatic art will consist of the American, two European equilibrists, who do several startling tricks in mid-air.

From these few lines can be gathered an idea of the program, which is one of the best of the season.

piece of work cannot be found in the film world. The time goes back to the days of Louis XIV. of France, and the setting contains several educational points. This wonderful picture is shown in two parts and tells the story of the love of a young maiden for an orphan beggar, owing to royal blood being in his veins the marriage could not take place, and the girl was sacrificed by the king, and the youth was at that time in disfavor with the court. He could not openly wed her and their subsequent adventures are thrilling. The story is a beautiful one, with many dramatic situations.

The six still picture slides to be shown every Monday, Tuesday and Friday hereafter, are expected to arrive tomorrow afternoon, and will be shown for the first time on Monday. These slides contain the latest creations in the fashion of Paris and all have been designed by the master designers of the world. The same slides will be shown on Tuesday and again on Friday. On the following Monday six new slides will be exhibited. The management of the Pantages has arranged this feature especially for the patronage of the women folk who will be able to see what new fashions they may expect to see.

RESERVATION INDIANS ARE RAPIDLY DYING OFF

Like All Alien Races, Noble Red Man Fast Giving Way Before Inroads White Farmers.

The opening of the Fort Peck Indian reservation in Montana to white settlers calls attention once more to a fast disappearing class—the reservation Indians, says a writer in the Kansas City Star. They are not, as is generally speaking, a very noble or deserving class, and in all, it is perhaps just as well that they are passing. Still, for all their faults, a certain interest clings around them as the last recognizable remnant of a despised race.

It was in South Dakota, in the course of a visit to a ranchman, that I first had a chance to see the reservation Indian in his native haunts, and, truth to tell, it was a good deal of a disappointment. Perhaps, despite the efforts of realistic novelists, we all continue to invest the Indian with a certain lurid halo of romance. Wild West shows and the "movies" bolster up the fanciful idea and help to keep it breathing. Of course, as a matter of fact, no Indian outside these places wears feathers or leather or war paint any more, unless it be at some special festival, promoted largely for the benefit of white men.

Your typical reservation Indian is a stubby, broad faced person, not too fastidious in his apparel, and a good deal of the time his life ambition seems to be to exist with the smallest amount of exertion that is in any way possible. This the government has made it possible for him to do by giving him land and money at intervals.

Also, it has given him cattle, which he has made use of, and agricultural implements which he has lazily carted off, dumped on the north side of his barn and left to the mercy of the weather.

Easier Not to Plant Than Plant.

Most of these Indians have all sorts of land—the choicest land on the Cheyenne reservation, much of it lying along the Cheyenne river, which provides water winter and summer for cattle. Their cattle graze, too, on the common pasture land of the reservation. Most of the Indian allotments are excellent farms, capable of producing good crops. Few of them do, however, because it is easier not to plant the crops. There is a log house and a barn, but the agricultural ventures of the average reservation Sioux is confined to a field of hay. With that and the cattle he can live along, and the government can always be depended on for enough money to buy flour and bacon, so why worry? Also, why put aside over crops?

During the summer visiting is a favorite occupation of the reservation Indians. He leads his wife and his children, a tent and a few cooking pots into a wagon, shuts up his cabin, and makes his way, without undue haste, to the home of some friend or relative. There the tent is set up and a visit of some two or three weeks ensues. And when one wants to move on there are always plenty of other places to visit.

There is some little hunting still on the Cheyenne reservation—prairie chickens, ducks, geese and—do not smile—prairie dogs. For a prairie dog is a rare delicacy, and a brace of them are well worth an afternoon's hunting, especially if you have nothing else in the world to do with the afternoon.

The prairie dog is not bad eating, either, though somewhat too fat for a white man's taste.

Your full blood reservation Sioux is an amiable person, on the whole, and cattlemen say he is much more trustworthy than the more energetic half-breed. His word given, he is apt to keep it, and he has some ideas of honesty, which is more than can be said of the gray eyed half-breed.

Dennis Buck a Good Scout

There used to be a thoroughly pleasant and reliable chap, a full blood, who took dinner at the ranch occasionally. His name was Dennis Buck, and he had been a member of the Indian police and he brought us much useful information. He could tell who was stealing cattle and he did—and usually the culprit was not a full blood, either.

But quite the most picturesque Indian who came our way was old Pine Weather. Pine Weather was a veteran of the Sioux wars of the '70s, and there was a tradition among the cow punchers that he had taken even white scalps in his time. For a long time he avoided the ranch; he had quarreled with the owner over the matter of some hay. And we used to see him occasionally drive up to our well, a few yards or so from the ranch house. He came there for water, which nobody had the least objection to his taking, but he never came without a rifle in the crook of his arm. There was certainly a thrill to one fresh from civilization to see the old man drive around behind the fence, avoiding the doorway, his reins in one hand, his rifle in the other.

Fine Weather Calls for Dinner

Finally, however, the feud was patched up, and one day Fine Weather came in to dinner. He had broken down near the ranch—some bit of harness broken—and he came in to get one of the cow punchers to mend it for him. For the old man himself was quite helpless. So much of a stand-patter was Fine Weather that he had never taken the trouble to learn how to mend white man's harness. So the puncher attended to the matter, and, as it was dinner time, asked the old man to stay and eat with us. He came in with his small grandson, and although the chief himself was more than seventy, a twenty-year-old Charlie football player could not have carried himself straighter. He wore his hair in two long braids that hung down his breast, and his great brown, furrowed face was unchanging as if it had been carved out of rosewood. He said nothing during the meal, but devoted himself to the ham and potatoes as though he had been fasting for a week.
